PRODUCT OVERVIEW

The newest additions to Marvel's line of built-in undercounter refrigerators feature the exclusive MicroSentry™ refrigeration monitor. The models, a 15-inch-wide (model 30ARM) and a 24-inch-wide (model 61ARM) version, deliver just the right amount of space to provide ample refrigeration capacity in space-saving sizes. Both models offer several key features, which include:

- The MicroSentry monitor actively checks critical components in real time, while providing visual and audible alerts for over/under temperatures and door-ajar conditions
- Digital touchpad controls and LED temperature display are discreetly located yet easily accessible
- Full-wrap door has a recessed door gasket for a seamless, integrated appearance when built in
- Door is available in full overlay and in white, black or stainless steel with matching professional bar handle; cabinet exterior is available in white or black
- Overlay panel is the easiest one on the market to install; no kit is required
- Three door shelves hold smaller items neatly
- Door swing is reversible for right- or left-hand swing
- Clean, continuous toe kick adds a stylish finish to the product
- High-gloss white interior
- Automatic interior light and full automatic defrost for convenience and low maintenance

For flexibility in installations, the 15-inch model has an optional filler kit for use in existing 18-inch-wide openings. The 24-inch model can store larger items, such as deli trays and party platters. The models represent the next generation of undercounter refrigerators, designed to accommodate virtually any kitchen configuration while achieving optimal preservation conditions.
